

KITCHEN CLEANING DIVISION

Why use a professional kitchen cleaning company?

Kitchen hygiene and grease build-up in ductwork and ventilation systems can affect the running of your business.

- New fire safety laws for business premises require those with responsibilities to take steps to prevent and reduce the impact of fire even if they have never previously held such responsibilities. Don't risk prosecution!
- Visits from Environmental Health. Don't risk business closure!
- The Freedom of Information Act. Gives the public access to Food Hygiene Reports on your premises – don't risk profit!
- Your insurance policy is likely to stipulate conditions regarding regular cleaning of ventilation. Don't risk an invalid policy!

For less than you would think, you can employ the services of CCS, a professional and experienced company who can:

- Address all of your kitchen cleaning requirements, and in particular the cleaning of your ventilation system
- Ensure cleaning standards meet legislative and insurance standards
- Offer a professional, friendly, round-the-clock service
